GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA
 There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on non-riparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

Dear Susan

Attached please find a completed form received 3-24-06, in which "Santa Lucia spring" is mentioned as a tributary to Graves Creek.

I am the owner of parcel 12 of Asuncion Ranchos. The parcel number is 046-051-025. I believe the section is 14, R11E, T28S. Although listed as a tributary to Graves creek, it flows about 1 gpm. The water flows into a metal stock water trough and is completely used by stock. The spring water does not reach graves creek which is about 1/4 mile away. During rain runoff periods, the canyon where Laurel Spring is located does drain into Graves Creek but not in the dry season.

Laurel Spring has been here historically, and is on all the old maps. I hope this is of some help with your records.

Sincerely

Warren Miller
